1. Investment services

Our EFG¹ Bank (Luxembourg) S.A. investment services are available by means of a discretionary management mandate or advisory services.

Discretionary mandates allow you to hand over day-to-day investment decisions to our experienced investment managers.

Our advisory services enable you to make your own investment decisions, while having access to professional advice and a range of innovative investment products and solutions.

Alternatively, our execution-only service is appropriate for Account Holders who wish to manage their own financial affairs and require a comprehensive banking and custody service from a reliable partner.

Rates² for the different investment services are summarised on the following pages. Banking services fees (Section 5) are not included in the investment services³, unless otherwise specified in the pricing model.

1 EFG Bank (Luxembourg) S.A. hereinafter also "EFG Bank" or "the Bank".

2 All fees are exclusive of VAT. See section 7 of this brochure.

3 A minimum amount of EUR 5,000 per annum (including banking and investment services fees), will be charged per banking relationship.

1.1 Discretionary mandates

You may wish to fully delegate the management of your assets. EFG Bank offers a range of discretionary / investment strategies designated with the specific goals and risk profile of our Account Holders in mind. We offer equity, fixed income, as well as multi-asset strategies that consist of three broad asset classes: equities, fixed income and alternative investments.

6. Payments from/to third parties to/by EFG bank

6.1 Inducements paid by third parties to EFG bank

The distribution of securities is generally linked to the receipt of inducements from fund companies and securities issuers, or of issue and redemption commissions. The acceptance of these payments and inducements, which are within the usual scope of the market, allows the Bank to provide efficient, high- quality infrastructure for the buying and selling of financial instruments. Thus, as per Article 5 of its "General Conditions", EFG Bank may receive financial benefits (e.g. direct payments, rebates, commissions, fees, etc.) from third parties, including other entities of the EFG Group.

For investments funds, EFG Bank may receive a distribution fee as stated below:

Product category	Range of distribution fees
Money market funds	up to 1.00 %
Fixed-income funds	up to 2.20 %
Equity funds	up to 2.60 %
Asset allocation funds	up to 2.30 %
Alternative funds	up to 2.00 %

For structured products (primary market/new issues), EFG Bank may receive up to 5 % of the notional amount of the structured product, including structured notes, certificates, etc.

With respect to a discretionary mandate, distribution fees, if any, on investment funds and structured products are refunded to the client's account.

At any time before or after performance of the service (purchase of the product), additional details on the agreements concluded with third parties with respect to such inducements may be requested.

6.2 Business introducers

Should the Client be introduced by a Business introducer that is allowed, according to the Directive 2014/65/EU, as amended, to receive payments on a recurrent basis (because he provides additional or higher level service to the relevant client), such payments will be subject to the inducements legal framework, and calculated on the basis of the assets deposited on the account. The exact payment will be disclosed to the Client in the ex-post report.

7. VAT on fees

As from 1 January 2024, standard VAT rate is 17.00 % and the intermediary rate is 14.00 %.

The following fees are subject to either the standard VAT rate or intermediary VAT rate:

Fees charged at the Standard VAT Rate
